IRISH MARTYRS'

Beatification of Bishop Plunket Serves to Recall Penal Days.

Hundreds Suffered Rather Than Give Up Their Own Faith.

How Bishop O'Hurley Suffered Under Queen Elizabeth in 1584.

MARTYRS IN THE COUNTY LIMERICK

The beatification process of the Venerable Oliver Plunket, now going on in Rome, serves to remind the Irish people of the many who suffered martyrdom in the days of the penal laws. In the Irish College at Rome a book was recently discovered belonging to Bishop Plunket. In the fly leaf is written his name. The date is 1669. In the English College at Rome was also found recently an autograph signature of the martyred Archbishop of Cashel, Dermot O'Hurley. He was appointed to the See of Cashel in 1681 by Pope Gregory XIII.

Archbishop O'Hurley was not many months in Ireland before he was, in violation of the laws of hospitality, betrayed by the Baron of Slane, who gave him up to the agents of Dublin Castle on October 1, 1583. He was brought in chains before the Lords Justices Loftus and Wallop, and was several times tortured. At length, in May, 1584, the saintly prelate was submitted to the excruciating method of punishment known as "the boots"—that is, placed in the stocks with his feet and legs in tubs filled with oil and salt, and a fire kindled beneath. But the Archbishop bore his torture as did the early Christian martyrs, and refused to acknowledge the supremacy of Queen Elizabeth. The hideous details of the roasting are fully set out in the State papers, and must for all time stamp with infamy the names of Loftus and Wallop. Finally the Archbishop was hanged in Stephen's Green, Dublin, on June 30, 1584, obtaining the martyr's crown. His remains were interred in St. Kevin's church.

In the sixteenth century in Limerick the clergy were hunted like wolves, with prices on their heads, and many were slaughtered while offering up the holy sacrifice of the mass. Many instances might be mentioned. In 1539 Brother Robert was the minister of the Trinitarian Convent at Adare, with forty-two members. The King having sent his officials to put new decrees into execution, Brother Robert assembled his associates and all decided to suffer death rather than abjure their faith. They hid away the sacred vessels and ornaments of the altar in various places, so that when the agents of the Government arrived they could not find even a wooden crucifix on which to vent their impious rage. Three times summoned before the Magistrate, Father Robert was immovable in rejecting the honors offered to him by the court and in declaring his devoted attachment to the Catholic faith. None, he said, had ever sought to propagate their religious tenets by the sword except the pagan Emperors in the early ages and Mahomet in later times. As for himself and the community, they were determined that no violence should move them from the principles of truth. They recognized no head of the Catholic church save the Vicar of Christ, and as for the King of England, they regarded him not even as a member of that holy church. "When the venerable father had uttered these words," says Lopez in his Noticias Historicas, "a heretical officer drew his sword and with one blow severed the holy man's head from his body. The other agents of the court were at once let loose on the unoffending community. As the public prison was full of other victims, the religious were confined in private houses. There many died of the injuries and maltreatment which they received. Some, too, were murdered secretly, while others were publicly hanged in the market place. It was on February 12 and 13, 1539, that these happy fathers obtained their eternal crown."

Cornelius O'Neill was Bishop of Limerick in 1539. He was provincial of the Convent of Limerick, dedicated to the Holy Cross, its inmates numbering forty-six. The Bishop had been consulted by Henry about a divorce from his lawful wife, Queen Catherine, and gave his opinion firmly in favor of the wife. The King was much angered and declared he would have his revenge. He sent his emissaries and destroyed the Convent of Adare, killing all of the religious. When the Bishop heard of this he assembled the brethren together and announced that he would preach in the Cathedral on the following Sunday. A large congregation assembled. He set before them the grounds of the Catholic faith and the Pope's authority. He declared that the demands of the King were heretical, and that he, his counselors, and all who adhered to him were anathematized; and he concluded by asking from God strength for himself and for all under his care to defend the Catholic faith, even at the peril of their lives. The King's officials were afraid to offer him any violence in the church, "but on the evening of that day," says Lopez, "some of them went to his house, and being admitted, they told him that he should obey the King's order or suffer instant death. Throwing himself on his knees and raising his eyes to heaven, he exclaimed: 'Lord, today I offered to Thee the unbloody sacrifice of the Body of my Lord Jesus Christ. Now accept the sacrifices of my life to Thy greater honor and glory.' And then fixing his eyes on a picture of the Most Holy Trinity, he ejaculated: 'Santa Trinitas, unus Deus, miseris nobis!'"

A moment after the executioner, with one blow of the sword, severed his head from his body.

HONOR FOR SCORE.

Appointed on Law Committee of Catholic Knights of America.

Supreme Delegate John J. Score, of this city, this week received notice of his appointment on the Law Committee of the Catholic Knights of America. The committee will meet a week before the national convention, which assembles in St. Louis on May 9. President Gaudin made a good selection, as Mr. Score has had long experience in the order. For twenty-two years he has been the faithful Secretary of Branch 4, served two terms as State Secretary and five years as Secretary of the Louisville Central Committee. He was also a delegate to the Philadelphia national convention in 1891, and has attended all the Kentucky State Council meetings. Mr. Score will leave for St. Louis the first of next week. The other members are Joseph Berning, Cincinnati; Edward Feeney, Brooklyn; George Repetti, Washington; M. J. E. Hartman, St. Louis; Peter Wallrath, Evansville, and Rev. Father Howlett, Pueblo, Col.

Judge Michael T. Shine, of Covington, will also represent Kentucky at the convention. Judge Shine is one of the oldest as well as ablest members of the order, and his advice and counsel will prove valuable to the convention.

MILLIONAIRE

James White, a Louisville Boy, Has Fair Prospects of Becoming One.

James White, of Butte, Mont., who has been visiting his father, Charles White, 1025 West Jefferson street, and his sister, Mrs. James McKenna, of Fairfield, returned to the West last Sunday. Young White left Louisville eleven years ago and obtained employment with Marcus Daly in the Anaconda copper mines. He is now an expert miner and destined to become a millionaire. After working in the Anaconda mines for several years White took employment with Augustus Hintze and later began prospecting for himself. The result was that he was elected Vice President of a mining company which has a fair prospect about twenty miles from Butte. The company owning this prospect sent him East about three months ago. He has been in Boston and New York since then. He succeeded in getting Eastern capitalists interested, and they will furnish money enough to develop the mines. If the prospect turns out as good as White expects he will be worth a million dollars in a few years. The mine is to be developed at once.

James White is a son of Charles White, the retired builder, and is a very bright young man. His brother, Myles White, is with him in Butte and is Superintendent of construction in one of the large mines. He is also doing well. Mr. White is the second Louisville man who has been successful in mining in the West. James Hackett, the well known distiller, and his associates recently sold their interests in a mine in the West for several hundred thousand dollars in cash and stock.

PIERPONT MORGAN RECEIVED.

On Saturday last J. Pierpont Morgan, the multi-millionaire, was received in private audience by Pope Pius. Mr. Morgan expressed himself delighted with the visit. The Pope last week also received in private audience the Very Rev. John A. Zahm, of Notre Dame, Ind., Provincial of the Congregation of the Holy Cross in the United States, who presented an offering of $1,000 for the University of Notre Dame. The Pontiff admired some photographs of the University of Notre Dame and wrote at the bottom in Latin his apostolic benediction to the professors and students.

EASTER IN COUNTRY.

How Catholics of Pewee Valley and Missions Observed the Day.

Our well informed Pewee Valley correspondent sends the following interesting letter about the observance of Easter and also other information about the district known as the Pewee Valley missions, including Eminence:

Easter came upon us with a wealth of glory and sunshine. Up hill and down dale the Easter bells sang forth their joyful alleluias. The usual Lenten exercises were held at both Pewee Valley and Eminence. Every Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the stations of the Cross were said at the latter place and at 7:30 the same day at the former. At both places the exercises were well attended by Catholics and non-Catholics. Many and great were the preparations at Eminence and Pewee Valley to celebrate Easter in a befitting manner. The altars in both churches were handsomely decorated with choice cut and pot flowers, but above all the numbers at holy communion showed that these good people prepared the sanctuary of their hearts in an especial manner to receive their Risen Lord. It being the fourth Sunday the reverend pastor was obliged to be at Eminence, where he sang a high mass, followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. A Passionist father, Rev. H. Francis, kindly supplied the place of the pastor at Pewee Valley. The Pewee Valley congregation greatly appreciated the kindness of their pastor in securing a priest to say mass for them, otherwise they would have been without mass on that great day. In fact, throughout the missions the people of the five churches and stations have shown in a substantial way their appreciation of what is being done for them. The Ladies' Aid Society at Pewee Valley donated two fine altar linens, handsomely worked by Miss Lon Foley; also a magnificent altar cloth was given to Rev. Father Boes by the Misses Mary and Lizzie Abel, of Lebanon. The Altar Society at Eminence donated a fine lace alib to the church at that place; a beautiful cope given by Frank Buttner and Mrs. Johnson; two handsome vestments, a purple one by Mrs. Thomas Curley and a black one by Mr. Peter Rapp. Rev. Father Boes also received a lace alib and cincture and linen for an altar cloth for the Lagrange church, which is being handsomely worked by the Misses Sauer, of Lagrange, who also donated a beautiful black vestment in memory of their deceased mother. The far-off lonely church of Gest was also the recipient of an alib and cincture, and the beautiful but lonely church of Bedford, Trimble county, is sadly in need of an altar cloth, but it is hoped this needful article will also soon be supplied. May the Risen Lord bless all those who so generously helped to beautify the sanctuary of the Lord.

GOOD COMBINATION.

Divisions 2 and 4, A. O. H., Will Probably Picnic Together.

Division 4 of the Ancient Order of Hibernians held its regular second monthly meeting in the Hopkins Theater building Wednesday evening and paved the way for good attendances in the future by assessing fines against those members who did not attend one of the two April meetings. R. J. Griffin, one of the division's new members, was reported laid up, having been injured in a street car accident. A communication was received from the County Board stating that the order as a whole would not give a picnic or field day. This news was entirely welcome to Division 4, as they had contemplated giving an affair of that kind on their own responsibility. After due deliberation it was decided to invite Division 2 to co-operate with Division 4 in giving a picnic, and John J. Barry, William J. Connelly and Joseph P. McGinn were appointed to visit the next meeting of Division 2 with that proposition. It will probably be accepted, as there is a sort of fellowship between those divisions and they have always worked together well in harness.

Ex-State Secretary Meehan, who has just returned from Paris, Mo., was warmly received by all of his old friends in the division, and gave an interesting description of his sojourn in the Western country. Edward Joyce, who just returned from a trip to Ireland, made a short talk on his travels, praising the beauty of "the little green isle o'er the sea."

BOYS GAVE GOOD SHOW.

The minstrels given Tuesday and Thursday nights by the Chesterfield Club of Trinity Council amused and pleased large audiences, so much so that the boys have received numerous requests to repeat their performance at Macauley's or Hopkins' Theater. The vocal selections were excellently rendered and the club swinging of John and Cora Ford was a surprise to the audience. Richard Hill, Parnell Barrett, J. J. Flynn and Christopher Leahy made a big hit with their "Haunted House," and the comedy work of Lawrence Worland, Frank Plisson, A. J. Schaefer and A. J. Plisson produced rounds of laughter. Manager Leo Worland deserves much credit for the manner in which the performance was conducted.

Thomas Queenan, one of the best known men on Main street, leaves tomorrow to become Superintendent of the woolen mill at Jackson, Tenn., the largest in the South. His numerous friends here regret his departure, but wish him great success in his new field.

NOMINEES.

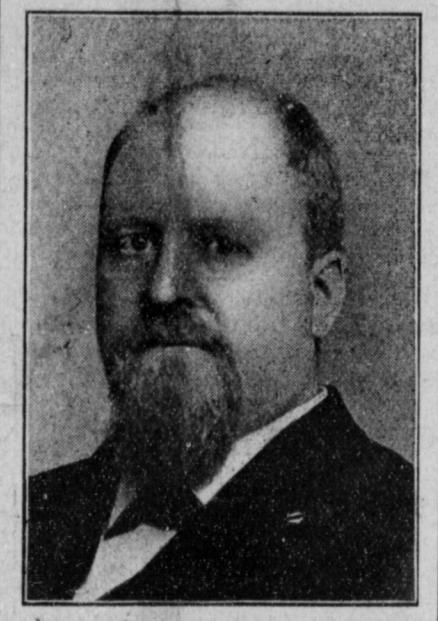

A Splendid Democratic Ticket Placed in the Field For November.

Paul C. Barth Nominated For Mayor Without Any Opposition.

Some Spirited Contests, But Defeated Ones Will Support Ticket.

NOW FOR VICTORY IN NOVEMBER

The primary election to nominate candidates for city and county offices held under the Carroll law last Tuesday passed

JUDGE JOHN MCCANN.

Democrat Whom People Love and Honor for His Worth and Integrity.

off quietly and a large vote was polled. On the eve of the election Laban Phelps withdrew from the race for Mayor, leaving a clear field to Paul C. Barth. James B. Brown withdrew from the race for Sheriff and Magistrate Fegenbush from the race for County Assessor. The withdrawal of these three popular men of course had the effect of making the primary less spirited than it ordinarily would have been had they remained in the race.

The principal contests were for the offices of City Auditor, Clerk of Police Court, County Judge, County Assessor and County Superintendent of Public Schools. The closest race was between Magistrate John M. Adams and P. S. Ray for County Assessor, the former receiving a majority of 913 votes. Judge Charles Wilson received 14,822 votes and James J. Fitzgerald 4,059 votes for County Judge. Lyne G. Herndon received 9,399 votes for City Auditor and Charles Neumeyer, the incumbent, 6,198 votes. Robert C. Gray received 4,269 votes and Alf V. Oldham 12,175 votes for Clerk of the Police Court.

Another spirited race was that between Albert Charlton and D. H. Russell for Senator. Russell made a good fight, but as Charlton had been organizing for a year, he had the advantage and won the race.

Russell shows the kind of man he is in an interview after the election.

He said he thanked his friends for their support, and that he would help elect Charlton and the entire ticket. James J. Fitzgerald, in an interview after the primary, said: "I am for the straight Democratic ticket. I am a Democrat and will support its nominees."

Judge John McCann, who has held office continuously for thirty years, received an overwhelming vote for judge of the Police Court, though he had no opposition. Judge McCann's record is beyond that of any other Democrat in this city or State. Advancing from the foundry to Constable, then to Magistrate, and later to the bench of the City Court, he has filled these offices with signal ability, and as Judge he has displayed a knowledge of human nature that has caused him to be looked upon with terror by evil-doers, but in the treatment of the poor unfortunate and fallen he tempers justice with mercy, and many there are who owe to him their reformation and redemption from the road that leads to ruin and worse. Emmet Slattery, the rising young attorney, made a runaway race for the Legislature, as we predicted. In his Louisville will have a representative that will safeguard her best interests while legislating for the advancement of the entire State. Democrats from Fifth street to the western limits of the city are elated over the nomination of Edward O'Connor and Patrick Sullivan for Magistrates and Bud Moran and Joe Neilligan for Constables. Though all had strong opposition they won by handsome majorities, which will be largely increased next November.

The ticket is a good one and the Democrats of Louisville and Jeffersontown are confident of electing it in November. The defeated candidates and their friends will all be in line by that time, and with a united party victory is certain.

GOES SUNDAY.

Thomas Queenan, one of the best known men on Main street, leaves tomorrow to become Superintendent of the woolen mill at Jackson, Tenn., the largest in the South. His numerous friends here regret his departure, but wish him great success in his new field.

FOR WOMAN'S EYE.

Latest Things Found in Louisville Dry Goods Stores For Summer.

The popular checked sateens are selling for nineteen cents a yard. This price buys the mercerized quality that looks like silk when new. A few gowns of this sateen have been made up with yokes of all-over embroidery and others have piping of a plain color to match the check.

A charming blue lawn with self stripes is only ten cents a yard. To secure the best effect it should be made over a plain blue lining.

There is no end to the demand for embroidered flouncing, which will be used extensively in the trimming of white wash gowns. Lovely Swiss flouncing may be had for twenty-five cents a yard. Since the triple skirts have come into favor the flouncings have assumed a new importance. Three flounces of embroidery make a charming skirt and is not beyond the ability of the home dressmaker.

White mohair a yard wide sells for fifty cents a yard. The better, wider grades bring $1.

Brown half shoes of suede are $5. They are quite pretty enough to compensate for the price.

There are women who like white hose for house wear with slippers and they can buy lovely patterns.

There is no prettier turn-over than the sheer drawn work lingerie band, which sell for twenty-five cents. In sets, including collar and cuffs, the price is seventy-five cents.

The mercerized waistings are more beautiful than the manufacturers have ever before turned out. For fifty cents a yard there is a wide range of choice. The polka dotted ones are mercerized to such a high finish that they look like the wash.

A white wash silk lingerie waist is considered indispensable. This waist has taken on new beauty and popularity and can be bought ready to wear. Those made to order are less fanciful than the wash.

The organdies are exquisite. They are sheer and patterned in charming designs. One woman who fell a victim to the charm of a yellow rose pattern declares she never had such an attractive gown.

The rajah silks are enjoying an immense sale. Rajah is only another name for pongee. It is a pongee of a finer quality than heretofore, however, and it merits all the praise that is being bestowed on it. For a shirt waist suit it is about the most desirable silk that can be found. The prices are from eighty-nine cents to $2.50.

SATOLLI COUNCIL

Closes Its Successful Membership Contest and Starts Another.

The meeting of Satolli Council, Y. M. I., held last Monday evening, brought to a close one of the most successful membership contests ever conducted in the history of that organization. The winning side, under Capt. Ed Pope, landed nine new members, while the losing team, under Capt. Harry Colgan, actually landed seven members, and had the initiation fee of the eighth, who was prevented by illness from attending on Monday night. Each side had several more candidates, but the contest only included those actually received into the council up to and including last Monday evening. As a result the losing team will have to pay the expenses of a public reception to be given by the members to their friends at the council rooms on the evening of May 8.

The increase in membership, however, will be steadily pushed by the council, one application having been received on Monday evening, in addition to which a new contest has been arranged between the following teams:

Progressives—William P. McDonogh, George Zorn, Edward I. Pope, George M. Eady, Edward I. Streicher, F. Luchert, Richard Mulloy.

Conservatives—James Perry, James M. Toner, James Scally, Edward Clem, Joseph T. Kelly, Ollie Crush, F. Meagher.

The contest will close on August 1, losing side to pay the expenses of a reception to the members and friends. As this contest will embrace a great many of the new members, it is expected a hot pace will be developed by the respective teams. Arrangements were also made to commemorate the anniversary of the founding of the council. This will be done the latter part of next month.

The Real Estate Committee had no report to make, but are still actively engaged in their particular line.

LAFAYETTE COUNCIL

Preparing For Entertainment of Kentucky Jurisdiction Convention.

Lafayette Council, Y. M. I., of Newport, has decided not to give a moonlight excursion this season, according to the Telegraph, owing to the coming of the Grand Council convention, which convenes in that city early in August. The various committees are busy preparing sundry entertainments for the delegates and visitors to the convention, and it goes without saying that they will be royally entertained and will return to their homes cherishing fond memories of the eighth Grand Council convention of the Kentucky jurisdiction.

Lafayette Council and other Catholic societies in Campbell and Kenton counties have organized the Tri-City League, with six ball teams. The East Newport ball park has

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

The ticket nominated by the Democrats of Louisville and Jefferson county on Tuesday is a strong one, and entitled to the undivided support of all members of the party. It is also deserving of support from all citizens, regardless of party affiliation. It is not an exaggeration to say that it is the strongest ticket placed in the field in this city and county in many years. With the proper organization the nominees ought to be elected by from 3,500 to 5,000 majority.

It is evident from recent occurrences that the Republican organization in Louisville will be well organized this fall. To begin with, the Republicans have all the Federal office-holders in the city and State to draw funds from, and it has 10,000 negro voters to do its bidding. An effort will be made to use the City Club as a blind to catch reformers, but all of this can be overcome, and will be overcome, if Democrats get together and present the issues fairly before the people. The people of Louisville a few years ago elected a Republican Mayor and General Council, and the conduct of these officials was such that it was made evident several times since then that the voters are not going to trust the city's management in Republican hands again for at least a generalization. Of course the greatest interest in the election in the city is in the contest for Mayor and in the County for Sheriff. Paul C. Barth, the Democratic nominee for Mayor, is a native of Louisville and his record is known to all. He is a self-made man, a clean man and will make an excellent Chief Executive. He is familiar with the city's needs, having long served in the Board of Aldermen with great credit. Henry Bell, the nominee for Sheriff, has served in that office before. He, too, is a man of unimpeachable integrity, and an official that any county might be proud of. The other nominees are equally good. Let every Democrat go to work for the success of the ticket.

The present municipal administration of Louisville is as good as other in the United States.

"outs" are crying fraud and calling for reform in order to get out. If these same shouters were in office they would probably be as bad as the Republican Council under Mayor Todd. The only salvation of Louisville is to elect the Democratic ticket in November. It will secure stability and white supremacy.

CLEVELAND ON WOMAN'S CLUBS.

Former President Grover Cleveland has an article in the May number of the Ladies' Home Journal on "Woman's Mission and Woman's Clubs." Mr. Cleveland entertains about the same views about women that President Roosevelt does. Cleveland's ideal wife is "one who loves her husband and her country with no desire to run either." He does not object to women associating or co-operating in charitable, benevolent and religious work, local in activities and purposes, but he does object to them galavanting around at club meetings discussing politics. He regards home making and child bearing and rearing as the highest missions of woman. This is precisely the Catholic doctrine, and Cleveland expresses his views in forcible language. Here is a this correspondent says, with the cars drawn by horses the Glasgow tramways carried 54,000,000 passengers. During the year 1904 under municipal ownership and with electric traction the tramways carried 190,000,000 passengers.

In Glasgow, the correspondent continues, the fares are extremely low for a short ride and high for a long one. For one cent (American money) one may ride .58 miles; for two cents, 2.3 miles; for three cents, 3.48 miles; for four cents, 4.64 miles; for five cents, 5.8 miles; for six cents, 6.89 miles; for seven cents, 8.15 miles; for eight cents, 9.09 miles.

It must not be lost sight of that Glasgow receives a large revenue from the operation of its own street cars.

James Dalrymple, the General Manager of the Glasgow street railways, is on his way to Chicago at the invitation of Mayor Dunne to explain municipal ownership to the officials of the Windy City. His visit will be watched with interest. Municipal ownership is one of the coming questions in this country. Even Andrew Carnegie endorses it and has written to Mayor Dunne congratulating him on the stand he has taken in the matter.

The Russian Government is to spend $350,000,000 in building new steel iron clad vessels for its navy. Charles M. Schwab is in St. Petersburg in conference with the Czar and will most likely furnish most of the steel. Mr. Schwab has been received with great friendliness and even cordiality by the Russians, notwithstanding the unfair way the American press has treated that Government during the past year.

Clergy and laity throughout the country heartily rejoice with Rev. Patrick Cronin, the venerable and able editor of the Buffalo Catholic Union and Times, upon whom Pope Pius X. conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity on the day on which he celebrated the thirty-first anniversary of his editorship. The honor could not have been more worthily bestowed, and with the Catholic press we pray he may long live to enjoy it.

Although Indiana is strictly enforcing its drastic liquor laws closing saloons at 11 o'clock at night and on Sundays, the Prohibitionists met in Indianapolis a few days ago and denounced the Nicholson law as an aid to the "rum curse." The Prohibits want all the saloons closed and the proprietors sent to the penitentiary. It is hard to please some people, and especially the Prohibitionists.

Mr. Cleveland denounces the men who neglect their wives for business or pleasure, but thinks women who forsake their homes for clubs only make their situation and their children's far worse. The article has created a great deal of comment already, and the club women will jump all over him when they read it.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Immediately after the election of Mayor Dunne in Chicago the Tribune of that city dispatched its Washington correspondent "Raymond" to Glasgow, Scotland, to look into the workings of the street railway system in that city, which is owned and operated by the municipality. Glasgow is about half as large as Chicago. The first cablegram from its correspondent appeared in the Tribune last Sunday. Here are a couple of paragraphs from Raymond's correspondence:

"I have ridden many miles on the different routes through the city of Glasgow and am prepared to testify that the trams here are infinitely superior in every respect to the broken down system which at present afflicts Chicago. He does not object to women associating or co-operating in charitable, benevolent and religious work, local in activities and purposes, but he does object to them galavanting around at club meetings discussing politics. He regards home making and child bearing and rearing as the highest missions of woman. This is precisely the Catholic doctrine, and Cleveland expresses his views in forcible language. Here is a Right Rev. Francis Silas Chatard, D.D., Bishop of Indianapolis, accompanied by his secretary, Father Chatard, called at St. Joseph's Infirmary Monday to see Father Kelly, of New Albany. Although Bishop Chatard is in poor health himself, having suffered a stroke of paralysis a couple of years ago, he traveled 110 miles to see one of his faithful priests. Bishop Chatard only remained in Louisville a few hours. He also called on Father O'Connell at Jeffersonville and inspected the new church now nearing completion.

BISHOP CHATARD'S VISIT.

The St. Mary's College ball team, which recently won a double-header from Springfield by scores of seven to nothing and eight to two, was defeated Monday by a team made up from the college faculty, assisted by Burland, one of the pitchers of the college team. The result of the game was a surprise, for though there are some old "stars" on the faculty, the latter are all out of practice and had never played together before. The absence of several regulars of the college helps to account for the latter's defeat.

"Fritz" Kellner is one of the most popular men in Louisville and all of his friends will wish him a pleasant trip and safe return home.

WELL PLANNED HOAX.

The rites of matrimony were solemnized Wednesday afternoon at St. William's church between Michael O'Neal and Miss Maggie Murphy, Rev. Father Murphy officiating. The bride is a sister of Mrs. C. J. Ford and is quite a popular young lady, while the groom, like his brother, Officer John O'Neal, is "one of the finest."

John L. Gruber, the popular Portland grocer, and Miss Anna Evers will be united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. Peter's church.

After the ceremony they will leave for Old Point Comfort and Washington, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Miss Evers is a charming young woman and resides with her mother at Twenty-first and Maple streets. The groom has been prominent in local politics and served several years as President of the Bandana Club.

One of the most interesting of the early May weddings announced will be solemnized Tuesday morning at the Dominican church with nuptial mass at 8 o'clock, when William J. Brennan will lead to the altar Miss Josephine Brown, one of the prettiest girls in Limerick. Rev. Father Clark will officiate at the ceremony, and the happy couple will be attended by Ned Brown and Miss Anna Brennan. Both young people are popular and have the best wishes of hosts of friends for a long life of congenial bliss.

Many people were this week delighted to receive invitations to the marriage of Miss Josephine Gnau and Frederick Herp, which will be solemnized with nuptial mass at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning, May 10. The bride-elect is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gnau. For several years she has held a confidential position with the Gathof Dry Goods Company, and among her wide circle of friends she is a great favorite. Fred Herp is one of the best known young men in the city, an active member of Mackin Council and other Catholic societies, and a trusted employee of the Dearing Printing Company. With their many friends we tender our hearty congratulations. The bridal couple will spend their honeymoon at French Lick Springs, and after returning will be at home to their friends at $69 Twenty-third street.

LOVE AND POWER.

A London photographer had been invited to Rome in order to photograph the Pope. One of the great rooms in the Vatican was given to him as a studio and at 8:30 in the morning the Pope came to him for his sitting. While he was standing in position his Holiness smiled, and the photographer, repeating that old formula which we have all so often heard, "Oh, if you could keep that pleasant expression for a moment?" made the Pope roar with laughter.

"Too bad, too bad!" he said; "don't I always look pleasant?"

The photographer gave a very interesting account of that interview. He asked the Pope to put himself in the attitude of pronouncing a blessing, and said the artist, in photographs, "a marvelous change came over him, the man vanished, the Pope—the great father of the people—appeared; his face wore a look of wonderful love and power. I could never have believed that any human being could become so instantly transformed."

HAPPY EVENT.

John Lepping, the well known German grocer, was given a happy surprise Thursday evening at his home on Eighth street. His friends knew that on Thursday, April 27, fifty years ago, our round and genial friend first saw the light of day, and therewith honored him with the most enjoyable banquet of the season. Henry Gottbrath was toastmaster, and responses were made by American, Irish and German admirers, who wished him and his friends many more years of health and happiness.

MACKIN'S MEETING.

Mackin Council's meeting this week was presided over by Will Shaughnessy, who obligated another new member.

Six candidates were balloted for and three applications received. After an interesting discussion Messrs. Charles Riedy, Clarence Zook, John Lynn, George Lautz and Frank Burke were appointed to prepare literature for distribution among young men with the view of increasing the membership.

The Social Club announced that arrangements were being made for another dance on the evening of May 8, to which members and their friends are invited.

LADIES ARE HUSTLING.

The members of the Green and Gold teams of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians are hustling for candidates in all sections of the city, and already the contest is quite interesting.

Next Wednesday night the auxiliary will meet in the Hopkins Theater, and as the Lenten season is over the officers look for a large attendance.

Several matters of unusual interest will be acted upon, and it is hinted that invitations will be received to a couple of weddings.

KELLNER GOING TO GERMANY.

Col. Fred Kellner, President of the Frank Feier Brewing Company and the Central Consumers' Company, will go to Germany about May 15, to visit relatives and friends.

Mr. Kellner has been in America forty years, most of the time in Louisville, and has never been back to his native land.

"Fritz" Kellner is one of the most popular men in Louisville and all of his friends will wish him a pleasant trip and safe return home.

WELL PLANNED HOAX.

The announcement in last week's issue of the marriage at Chicago of William Norton, which was of interest to many people in this city, was nothing but a hoax.

Telegrams and letters brought the news, which was printed as true.

Subsequent investigation proves there was no foundation for the announcement, which was originated with Norton's Chicago associates and was intended as a joke.

INDIANA PRIEST HONORED.

An agreeable surprise to the Rev. Father Tihen, of Wichita, Kas., was the receipt of papers from the Vatican at Rome announcing his appointment as Papal Chamberlain to Pope Pius X. The office is an honorary one and carries with it the title of Monsignor. Father Tihen

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
 the Past Week—General
 News Notes.

Memphis Hibernians are unanimous
 for the home and lecture bureau.

Duluth Hibernians are said to heartily endorse the home proposition and the lecture bureau.

The members of Division 4 of Syracuse attended the Holy Week services and received holy communion in a body at St. Vincent de Paul's church on Easter Sunday.

At the most important quarterly meeting held in many years on Sunday afternoon Division 12 of Providence voted unanimously for the proposed home for aged members.

Fall River Hibernians will march in a body tomorrow morning to the pro-Cathedral; and after receiving holy communion will parade the principal streets
 and be reviewed.

During the recent quarterly convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary, held in Father Matthew Opera House at Scranton, it was decided to aid the men's organization in raising a subscription for St. Patrick's Orphanage.

Division 9 of Pawtucket elected nine candidates to membership at the last meeting. Tomorrow a large class will be initiated, when the degree team from North Attleboro will exemplify the secret work.

Pennsylvania now has 101 divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary, with a membership of 6,200. In the year 1904 a sum approximating $38,000 was paid out for sick benefits, but despite this there is still $36,000 in the treasury.

A new division has been organized in Holy Cross Hall at Harrison, N. J.
 Thirty-three men joined as charter members. Rev. Father O'Connor, pastor of Holy Cross church, and State President
 Burns were among the principal speakers.

Ladies' Auxiliary of Worcester,
 Mass., will hold a carnation social in Hibernian Hall on May 25. Recently they organized a sewing class, and at the close of the last regular meeting about forty members remained to do needle work.

Rensselaer, Mass., has a total population of about 5,000 people, one half this number being Irish Catholics. A division of the A. O. H. is organized with a membership of 300 and a Ladies' Auxiliary with over 250 members. The division treasury has $2,000.

Arrangements have been begun by Trenton Hibernians for the annual field day exercises to be held July 3. Division 1 of that city, the pioneer division of Mercer county, will celebrate its thirty-third anniversary with an entertainment
 the second week in May.

Division 6 of Minneapolis had an initiation of new members and the conferring of degrees on many heretofore admitted last Sunday. The degree team of Division 4 of St. Paul exemplified the work, which was followed by a smoke
 social and entertainment.

All the State officers of Rhode Island and many from Connecticut have been invited to witness the conferring of the third and fourth degrees on a class of twenty at Westerly tomorrow afternoon.
 The degree team of the Westerly division
 is considered the best in New England.

Last Sunday Division 54 of Philadelphia assembled in the school of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy and from thence marched with full regalia to church and received holy communion.
 The popular and patriotic pastor, Rev.
 Gerald Coghlan, as is his custom annually, gave the Hibernians the front seats in the main aisle of the magnificent church.

There are now five divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary in Hudson county, N.
 J., and two more are under way and will soon be ready for institution, one in Harrison and one in Jersey City. Recently the three Jersey City auxiliaries visited Bayonne and initiated a large number of ladies of St. Augustine's parish. After the ceremonies the Rev. Father Mc-Laughlin, State Chaplain, explained the principles of the order and welcomed the new auxiliary. When the officers had been installed the President invited the visiting ladies into the large parish dining hall and refreshments were served.

This from the Manchester Emerald is all right: "On St. Patrick's day at Louisville, Ky., 500 members were initiated as members of the local divisions of that city. This is the way to celebrate the feast of our patron saint.
 No other city in the country can show such a record. Bear in mind it was not new divisions organized, but this great membership was added to several divisions already existing there. The Kentucky Irish American deserves much praise for its active work in the order's interest and we are pleased to note that the Kentucky Hibernians appreciate the work of their official journal."

THE BEST YET.

During recent years many entertainments have been given by local talent in this city, but none that approached the one given Wednesday night by Portland talent at Lewis' Hall. The programme was much above the ordinary, and notwithstanding its length each number was warmly encored. Miss Martha Casey, whose pure and sweet soprano voice thrilled the audience, was repeatedly called before the curtain; as was also Frank Cotter. The Mooney twins, Alberta and Alberta, favorites everywhere, had the audience with them from first to last. Little Estelle Fosse, Grace O'Connor and the boys and girls were also generously applauded. The numbers that best pleased the older music lovers were rendered by Mrs. Swain, Misses Portman, Villier, Swain, Von Bentz and Stephany. Altogether the musicals were most creditable, and is well worthy of repetition.

BUCKINGHAM.

Car's "Thoroughbreds" will be the next attraction at the Buckingham Theater. Among the scenes depicted in this entertainment is Paris, with all of its gaiety, color, costumes, song and dance.
 The show is also said to be well equipped with a strong vaudeville contingent.

FOR COLORED PEOPLE.

Pope Sends Silver Crucifix
 to New York For Benefit of Fair.

A handsome gold and silver crucifix, a gift of his Holiness Pope Pius X., has been received by the Rev. John E.
 Burke, rector of St. Benedict's church for colored Catholics, on West Fifty-third street, New York. The beautiful gift was sent by the Pope for the benefit of the great fair which is to be held in the church hall. The crucifix is twenty inches in height and was selected by his Holiness from the Vatican treasures. It is of a very beautiful design, with rich carvings. It was brought to New York
 by the Right Rev. Dr. Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American College, who is now in this country. The fair for the benefit of the Church of St. Benedict the Moor began on Easter Tuesday and will continue through next week.

RECENT DEATHS.

The funeral of Miss Ella Coleman took place from St. Cecilia's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock with a requiem mass for the repose of her soul. The deceased was a prominent member of the Bindery Girls' Union and her family have the sincere sympathy of the many who knew and loved her for good qualities.

Mrs. Mary Spellman, the beloved wife of John Spellman, passed peacefully to her eternal reward Monday night at the family residence, 1109 West Jefferson street. The deceased had lived many years in Louisville and her death is mourned by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Besides her husband she leaves one son, James Spellman, and three daughters. Funeral services with solemn requiem mass were held Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Owing to the many Easter Monday receptions and entertainments there was only a fair attendance at the meeting of Trinity Council. Frank Lenz, Fred Matthews and Joseph Steurle were reported well. The usual routine business was transacted, and announcement was made that interesting reports would be submitted Monday night.

DEPARTS FOR EUROPE.

Very Rev. Father Bax, the venerable pastor of St. John's, left yesterday for Europe to visit the scenes of his boy-hood and the principal places of Catholic interest. For several days preceding his departure there was a continuous stream of callers at the rectory to wish him a pleasant journey and safe return.

GREETING HOLY FATHER.

Pope Pius X. last Sunday received
 many Easter greetings. The Holy Father celebrated mass in the Consistory hall in the presence of 225 persons, to whom he gave holy communion. Afterward the Pope administered the sacrament of confirmation to two sons of Senator Ivanich
 at the Portuguese Consul General at Rome.

CARDINAL FOR BRAZIL.

It is reported the Vatican has informed the Government of Brazil that at the next consistory a Brazilian Cardinal will be appointed, but adding that the appointee shall not represent Brazil exclusively,
 the Holy See reserving the right to designate the prelate. It is understood that the new Cardinal will be Monseignor Beoga, Bishop of Petropolis.

ACQUITTED.

Peter Madden, for years a member of the Jeffersonville police force, who was assaulted last winter by a motorman and had to shoot in self-defense, was honorably acquitted by a jury of Jeffersonville's best citizens when his case was tried this week. Madden was seriously hurt by the motorman and was laid up for some time.
 The verdict was a popular one.

HOME TO STAY.

Will J. Norton, the well known traveling man and for years the Southern representative of Englehard & Sons Company, has returned to the city to become assistant manager of the Norton Coffee Company, just incorporated by John J.
 Norton, Dr. Godfrey Hunter and other capitalists. The new company will import and roast coffee and tea on a large scale and will be located at 347 West Main street.

RESTING EASY.

William Evans, driver of the No. 3 hook and ladder, who was run over by attempting to board the heavy truck
 Thursday afternoon, is now resting easy at his residence, 732 Oldham street, and his friends do not apprehend any serious results from the accident.

RETURNS HOME.

Edward Curran, who for over a year has been at Las Vegas, New Mexico, for his health, returned last week unimproved, and is now confined to his home at Belfield. A procession, headed by three cars laden with the furniture of the evicted tenant, marched through the principal streets of the town, and with all sides expression of sympathy were heard from the widow and her children.
 In all there have now been about twenty evictions in the Spring Valley district,

and a black flag was flying from the chimney of the house of the evicted tenant. The bailiffs who removed it were compelled to use a sledge hammer to effect an entrance to the house.

TAKEN HOME.

Theodore Martin, the thirteen-year-old son of Albert F. Martin, State Secretary of the Catholic Knights of America, who underwent a critical operation at one of the hospitals, was this week able to be removed to his home, to the great relief of his parents. Young Martin will this year graduate from St. John's school and will then begin his studies for the priesthood.

ANOTHER PIONEER.

Armour McFarland Saw Louisville Grow to Great Metropolis.

In the death of Armour McFarland, Sr., which occurred at his home, 2020 West Market street, on Thursday morning, the Irish-American community of Louisville lost one of its best citizens. He had resided in Louisville more than half a century, and saw the city grow from a small town to a great metropolis. During his life in Louisville he pursued the calling of a granite cutter and was recognized as one of the best in the business. He had been ill since last October, although his ailment was not considered serious until a short time before his death.

The deceased was born in the north of Ireland sixty-four years ago, but came to America when but a small boy. When quite a young man he married Miss Annie Harrigan, who with three children survive him. Patrick Harrigan, an employee of the Pennsylvania Railway Company, was his brother-in-law. The children who survive are Miss Annie, Armour, Jr., and Edward McFarland. The funeral took place from the family residence at 10 o'clock this morning. The burial was in Cave Hill cemetery. Mr. McFarland was quiet; in his demeanor, but was devoted to his wife and family. A large circle of friends sympathize with the grief-stricken family in their bereavement.

JOINED THE MONKS.

Father Vaughan, Brother of Late Cardinal, Gives Up Honors.

Monsignor Canon John Vaughan, a brother of the late Cardinal Vaughan, who has been in Rome for several months, has resigned his office as domestic prelate to Pius X, and his membership in the Westminster Cathedral chapter for the purpose of joining the strictest of all Catholic religious orders, the Carthusians. Each monk of this community observes perpetual silence except for one hour per week, abstains always from flesh meat and except while saying mass remains secluded in his cell. Monsignor Vaughan joins the Carthusians in Cartos of Lucca, where the general of the order lives.

ITALIAN QUEEN COMING.

Queen Margherita of Italy has surprised her surroundings by announcing her intention of making a trip around the world in her automobile. She is an expert chauffeur and spends many hours every day in her car. She will prepare for her long tour by a trip through Spain, where she will visit all the principal cities, and she will remain for some time at Madrid. As soon as the war between Russia and Japan is over she will start East and will spend several months in India and Japan, countries in which she has always been interested. From Japan she will go to San Francisco, and having crossed the American continent, she will return to Rome via New York and Genoa.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Tomorrow a new council will be instituted at Union City, Ind.

Dayton Council wants to organize a base ball team for the coming season.

Judge Dunne, Mayor of Chicago, is an enthusiastic member of Phil Sheridan Council of that city.

Pawtucket Knights will give a society circus and have selected June 1, 2 and 3 for the performance.

J. W. O'Hara, recently appointed United States Consul at Montevideo, Uruguay, is Grand Knight of the council at Peru, Ind.

Tomorrow a new council will be instituted at Union City, Ohio. Preparations have been made for making this occasion a banner day in Catholic circles.

The new quarters for Cincinnati Council in the Mercantile Library building are now ready for occupancy. The offices and rooms present quite an attractive appearance.

Bishop Tierney, of Hartford, was the guest of honor at the twentieth anniversary celebration of Council 14 at Williamantic. His Lordship's toast was "The Church."

Eleven candidates received the honors of the first degree last week in Knights of Columbus Hall at St. Paul. Dr. Buckley, D. W. Lawler and Rev. J. M. Readon exemplified the degree.

Arrangements have been completed for the reunion and banquet of the Massachusetts State Council, to be held at the Hotel Brunswick in Boston on Monday evening, the night previous to the State convention.

Bishop Carroll Council will visit the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Newport on May 14, when the body will approach holy communion. The council will give an entertainment in the Library Auditorium next Tuesday night.

Seventy-five candidates were initiated into the Pere Marquette Council at Milwaukee last Sunday. The first and second degrees were conducted by the officers of the local council and the third degree was under charge of District Deputy Daniel Donohue, of Chicago.

A large delegation of Louisville Knights will witness the conferring of the three degrees by Lexington Council tomorrow. The first will be exemplified by Lexington Council, the second by Bishop Carroll Council under the direction of John Hevier, William P. Byrne and Edward Robinson, and the third by Grand Knight James J. Fitzgerald and staff of this city.

LOST MIND FROM GRIEF.

Through grief for her brother, who died last week, Miss Mary Kimmick, thirty years old, living with her mother on Meigs avenue in Jeffersontown, lost her reason while attending mass Sunday morning. After being taken from the church the unfortunate young woman was removed to the Mercy Hospital, where it is believed her ailment is only temporary. She is well known and highly respected and the greatest sympathy is felt for her.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Ottawa, Like Chicago, Is Moving Toward Securing Public Utilities.

Municipal ownership of public utilities is being urged in the large cities in Canada. A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Ottawa says:

"The fight for the municipalization of electric interests has entered a new phase by the second reading of a by-law in Ottawa to acquire by expropriation the Consumers' Electric Company's plant. This is a move to block the intended gobbling up by the original electric company of Ottawa of the Consumers' concern. The City Council also recently adopted a resolution to apply to the provincial legislature for power to raise a sum of $500,000 in addition to $250,000 already authorized to develop a new water power for electric supply for municipal purposes. The original Ottawa electric interest has carried a bill through the House of Commons allowing it to acquire the competing electric plants in the capital."

ANCIENT CUSTOM.

Publishing of the Bans
Back From the Fourth Lateran Council.

The custom of publishing the bans of marriage dates back to the primitive church, for Tertullian, who died A. D. 240, says that warning of intended marriages was given among the early Christians. It appears that the publication of bans was habitual in many places long before there was any general law on the subject, since Gregory IV. (1198-1216) speaks of the bans being given out in church, according to custom. The practice was introduced into France about the ninth century, and in 1176 was enforced in the diocese of Paris.
